ArtsQuest 2017 Report to the Community

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Together, we're shaping our community!

It was summer 2007 when ArtsQuest, the City of Bethlehem and PBS39 came together to share publicly the plans for the SteelStacks campus, envisioned to be a dynamic gathering space for the community.

Fast forward 10 years to 2017 and it's amazing to see how far we've come from that initial vision. Where once there was an abandoned, old steel mill, today stands a shining example of what can be accomplished when everyone works together and perseveres in spite of adversity, in this case the loss of the main employer in town.

Not only is SteelStacks a destination for people from throughout our region, it also draws hundreds of thousands of guests from across the U.S. to our City and our Valley each year.

Six years into the SteelStacks journey, it's obvious we've all created something special. A location where everyone is celebrated; a place where arts and artists converge, making for a unique community space unlike any other.

Leading the way in this growth through the arts over the past decade has been all of you – our donors, supporters, volunteers, artists and corporate partners. Thanks to your support, ArtsQuest has become:

IMPACT ANNUALLY ON THE COMMUNITY

Even after quadrupling our arts and education programming from 2010 to 2017, we are still able to offer 40 percent of this programming for free. Yes, this includes Musikfest, the largest nongated music festival in the nation. But, it also includes the 50 free shows at the Levitt Pavilion, hundreds of free concerts at SteelStacks, free art exhibits featuring area school children and artists at the Banana Factory, and dozens of life-changing educational programs for our region's students. Through and with your support, we've been able to do some amazing things for the Lehigh Valley and its residents!

In 2017, nearly two million people visited Bethlehem and the Lehigh Valley to enjoy ArtsQuest programming at Musikfest and SteelStacks. Once overlooked by those destined for New York and Philadelphia, today our region is first and foremost in many individuals' minds as they seek out unique arts and cultural experiences, dynamic festivals and memories that will last a lifetime.

Collectively, we're on an adventure that no one could have envisioned back in 2007. All of us, together, are shaping our community in new and exciting ways. Most importantly, this all starts with you!

Thank you for your dedication, your contributions and your support of ArtsQuest and the arts!

ArtsQuest President and CEO

REACHING OUT THROUGH EDUCATION

Thanks to You...

our donors, members and partners, ArtsQuest continues to expand its impact on youth and adults from underserved communities through a growing roster of Education & Outreach Programs.

ArtsQuest school programs are designed for young people who often lack the resources to access high-quality art enrichment programs. Through our unique educational experiences, students are able to create and appreciate art as they build social, cognitive and fine motor skills.

Most program sessions culminate with an exhibition of students' work, which helps these young people build self-confidence and take pride in their accomplishments.

Community outreach programs, such as ArtsQuest's new Creative Aging Program, have been successful because of partnerships with local health and human services providers. After spending time identifying needs in our community, we developed - through your support - several new programs that use the arts to transform, enhance and enrich the lives of the individuals who need it most.

Thanks to you, we can continue exploring new and exciting ways to bring the arts to the community through innovative programs that provide unique, hands-on experiences fostering a life-long appreciation of the arts.

Thanks to you:

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND COMMUNITY REVITALIZATION

In 1984, ArtsQuest began with a hope and a dream - present a music festival, Musikfest, to elevate the spirit of the community and draw people to Bethlehem's struggling downtown! Today, Musikfest is widely regarded as the largest free, nongated music festival in the nation, with 500-plus free shows on 16 stages.

Over the years, ArtsQuest has focused on other initiatives to help Bethlehem and the region grow, including building the Banana Factory arts center in the mid-1990s and partnering with the City of Bethlehem, its Redevelopment Authority and others to develop SteelStacks in 2011.

Like that first Musikfest so many years ago, the SouthSide Arts & Music Festival was launched in 2017 with a goal of drawing people to Bethlehem, specifically the SouthSide Arts District.

The event offered a wide range of activities ranging from family-focused arts programming at the Banana Factory and muralists working on busy Third Street, to live music in five different venues across the SouthSide. Over two days in April, more than 2,000 people explored South Bethlehem, its businesses and restaurants, once again showcasing the power the arts have when it comes to tourism and economic development.

Through your generosity, in 2017 ArtsQuest expanded its efforts to promote and build out our community through innovative arts programming.

THE ARTSQUEST FOUNDATION

Building Toward the Future

The ArtsQuest Foundation focuses on building sustainability for ArtsQuest's music, arts and education programs. Now the ninth largest arts nonprofit in the Commonwealth, ArtsQuest presents nearly 4,000 events, classes and concerts annually, yet more than 40 percent of these remain free to our community.

The reality, however, is that impactful, life-altering arts and education programming all comes with a cost, from hiring the highest-quality teachers to provide enriching arts experiences, to paying the 400-plus artists who take the stage at Musikfest each year.

A NEW BEGINNING

2017 marked a new beginning for ArtsQuest and its ArtsQuest Foundation as it welcomed Jane George as its first full-time Executive Director. Jane, who has extensive experience in development, fundraising and community relations, began in early December, coinciding with the retirement of Jeff Parks, who was the part-time Executive Director of the Foundation.

Under Parks' leadership, ArtsQuest founded Musikfest, Christkindlmarkt Bethlehem and the Banana Factory community arts center. Jeff was also one of the leaders in the development of SteelStacks, working closely with the city, its redevelopment authority and numerous partners to create the arts and entertainment campus on the former Bethlehem Steel plant.

Thank you Jeff – from all of the staff, volunteers, members and partners of ArtsQuest!

GROWING THE FOUNDATION

The Importance of Endowments

Since 2015, the ArtsQuest Foundation has been actively soliciting gifts to support the Foundation's established endowment funds. Income earned on these funds placed in the Musikfest, Performing Arts, Visual Arts and Scholarships endowments are restricted to the specific purpose of that fund.

All gifts to ArtsQuest are important. What makes endowment gifts especially important is that they provide a permanent and ongoing source of income to our nonprofit. These extraordinary gifts provide long-term benefits that ensure that ArtsQuest can provide permanent, ongoing support for our music, arts, festival, educational and outreach programs.

All endowment gifts can be created with payments over the course of five years, and most can be established with estate or deferred gifts. ArtsQuest's Advancement Department works directly with you to establish guidelines for your endowment gift and assure that your long-term philanthropic goals are achieved.

The Linny Awards, established to strengthen the long-term sustainability of ArtsQuest, are presented each November by the ArtsQuest Foundation.

The awards are named after the late Marlene "Linny" Fowler of Bethlehem, who worked tirelessly to elevate the arts in the Lehigh Valley through her volunteerism and support. In addition to honoring Fowler's legacy, the awards celebrate the extraordinary artists, arts, educators, businesses and philanthropists who live and work in the Greater Lehigh Valley.

On Nov. 9, 2017, the ArtsQuest Foundation held the second annual Linnys, honoring screen star Daniel Dae Kim with the prestigious Pinnacle of the Arts Award. Also recognized during the awards' dinner were Dolores Laputka with the Lifetime Achievement Volunteer Award and Steve Coleman with the Lifetime Achievement Artist Award.

STRENGTHENING OUR COMMUNITY THROUGH MUSIC

The Levitt Pavilion SteelStacks

Over the past seven years, the Levitt Pavilion has showcased the world of music, with 350 FREE concerts representing genres ranging from blues and rock to Latin and indie sounds.

Led by the Friends of the Levitt Pavilion Board, this dynamic outdoor music venue is dedicated to bringing our community together through free, high-quality music. And 'community' includes the talented regional artists and up-and-coming acts that performed there in 2017 like Philadelphia's Low Cut Connie, singer-songwriting twin sisters Nalani & Sarina and rockers Ceramic Animal. All of these acts appeared at the Levitt for the first time in 2017, helping to shape the venue's diverse musical lineup.

Though the support of our sponsors, donors and partners, along with the Mortimer and Mimi Levitt Foundation and donations made by patrons as part of the nightly 'Pass the Bucket' campaign, we were able to showcase 20 local and regional acts. Even more importantly, Levitt and ArtsQuest were able to pair Levitt artists with area students to provide unique educational outreach experiences.

On June 1, New York's Black Tie Brass Band joined 20 East Hills and Broughal Middle School Band students for a master class in which the students learned an original piece of music with the group. The day culminated with the student musicians then joining the brass band on stage for its Levitt Pavilion show. Coupled with this, more than 200 Donegan Elementary School students enjoyed a private performance and Q&A with Black Tie Brass Band, creating memories that will last a lifetime.

Unique educational programming is just one of the ways the Levitt has brought our region together. Other highlights during the year included:

- The annual Strut Your Pup fundraiser showcasing cute canines and their proud owners
- 11 Free Family Movie Nights
- 6 backstage events exclusively for Friends of the Levitt Pavilion Members

Since opening in 2011, the Levitt has provided performance opportunities for more than 427 artists, delighting 340,000 people who have turned out to see the shows.
