

INNOVATION THROUGH THE ARTS

ArtsQuest 2016 Report to the Community

Dear Friends,

When we reflect on 2016, there's one word that quickly comes to mind – 'milestones.'

In April, our nonprofit organization celebrated the fifth anniversary of SteelStacks, the unique public-private partnership that brought together the City of Bethlehem, Bethlehem Redevelopment Authority, Bethlehem Area School District, County of Northampton and many other partners to help transform an old, abandoned steel mill into a dynamic destination for music and art. Once the largest privately owned Brownfield in the nation, today this former industrial site is teeming with life, attracting more than 800,000 visitors annually to enjoy music, art and cultural experiences.

During Musikfest in August, a record 387 performers descended on Bethlehem, serving up more than 500 performances in all genres of music to the delight of the nearly one million people. And, as the year drew to a close, Christkindlmarkt Bethlehem celebrated its 24th year with an expanded footprint and a record crowd, drawing 70,000 people to Bethlehem to experience everything the Christmas City has to offer.

Behind the scenes, our staff worked closely with numerous community organizations and schools to strategically identify ways we can enhance the educational experience for young people and enrich the quality of life for our community. To this end, we greatly expanded our Education & Outreach Programming in 2016, while also rolling out many new classes, programs and events like the InVision Scholastic Photo Competition, Musikfest children's summer camps, the Food Truck Border Brawl and the Linny Awards, honoring the Lehigh Valley's vibrant arts community and those who support it.

As a community-based arts and cultural organization, our goal has always been enriching and enhancing our community through the arts, with a focus on using arts and culture to support tourism and aid in urban revitalization. In November, we received a pleasant surprise validating all the hard work everyone in the community has done over the past five years as Money Magazine named Bethlehem as the "Best City to Retire to in the Northeast." Among the reasons it cited were the development of the SteelStacks campus and the presentation of festivals like Musikfest.

Imagine that!

While 2016 was successful in many ways, we are already looking toward the future, nurturing our next generation of artists and identify areas where there may be new opportunities to add arts programming for our community. Over the past few years, we've undergone a major evolution and as we continue to grow, there's a renewed focus on expanding access to the arts and using our many resources to aid in economic development in our city and our region.

As an organization and as a family, we've just begun to scratch the surface of our true potential. The support of you - our 2,600 supporting members, 1,900 volunteers, 300 corporate partners and hundreds of community partners - has led us to where we are today. It's with you and because of you that we can all look forward to even bigger and brighter things for our region in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Kassie Hilgert
ArtsQuest President & CEO

INNOVATIVE EDUCATION

As one of the leading arts presenters in the region, ArtsQuest has developed strong relationships over the years with visual and performing artists from across the Lehigh Valley and around the nation.

In 2016, we focused on leveraging these relationships, as well as tapping into our expertise in music and arts programming, to develop a comprehensive slate of education and outreach programs for the community.

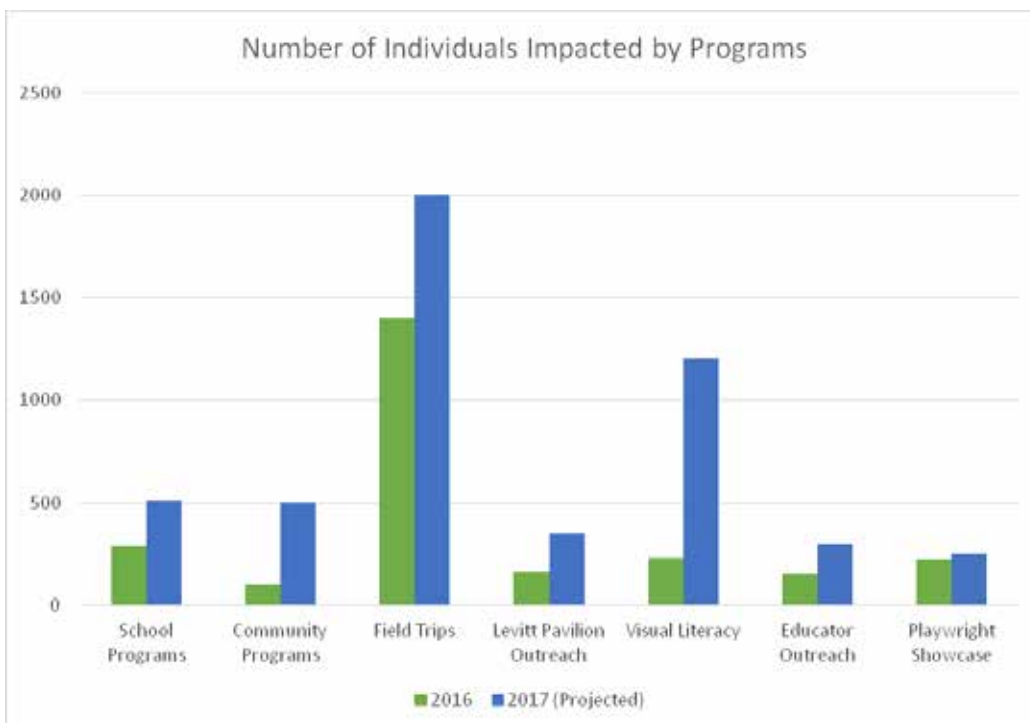

Among the offerings were new programs focused on early childhood education, visual literacy and afterschool education for grades K-4. In addition, Bethlehem area students were able to enjoy interactive experiences that brought nationally touring artists like American Idol's Crystal Bowersox and the High & Mighty Brass Band to their schools for performances as part of the Levitt Pavilion Artist in Residence Program.

Overall, more than 2,000 students enjoyed enriching arts education experiences presented by ArtsQuest in 2016, a nearly 100-percent increase from the year before. In addition, dozens of educators and community leaders were able to learn about the many resources and programs ArtsQuest is able to provide thanks to increased outreach to area school districts and community groups.

ArtsQuest's innovative approach to programming - coupling access to artists with hands-on educational experiences - has quickly helped position us as one of the leading arts education resources in the region. Continuing to capitalize on this growth in 2016, we are already planning on adding several new creative aging, afterschool enrichment and arts education programs for 2017.

"We like to call ArtsQuest our preferred partner. We look to them when we're thinking of improving our academic programs. ArtsQuest is a tremendous resource with a lot to offer."

Jack Silva, Bethlehem Area School District Assistant Superintendent for Education

ARTISTIC EXCELLENCE

As a community-based arts organization, one of our primary goals is providing access to arts and cultural experiences for all ages. Perhaps nowhere is this more evident than in the programming of Banana Factory.

Based on Bethlehem's SouthSide for the past 19 years, this three-story arts center has long been a hub of arts activity, offering classes, workshops and programs for toddlers to octogenarians. Over the past two years, we have transformed our arts programming under the leadership of our visual arts staff, increasing greatly the opportunities for area residents to immerse themselves in the arts.

In 2015, the Banana Factory presented 300 classes and workshops. In 2016, we tripled that, offering almost 1,000 opportunities, ranging from multi-week classes in clay and photography - to name just a few - to the make-your-own glass art program called the "Hot Glass Experience."

ArtsQuest's major visual arts initiatives are geared toward attracting visitors to South Bethlehem to explore the many shops, restaurants and businesses. Launched in 2015, the SouthSide Arts Festival is a showcase featuring dozens of local artists and art activities like graffiti art and 3-D chalk design, while the First Friday open houses, where guests can visit the 25 resident artists at work in their studios, are a launching point for discovering everything the SouthSide has to offer.

The visual arts programming also extends well beyond the walls of the Banana Factory. Throughout the year, we offer visual artist residencies at area elementary and middle schools; opportunities for artists to apply for shows like Christkindlmarkt and Handwerkplatz at Musikfest; and unique art competitions designed to engage and promote artists on many levels. Just are few of the many highlights include:

- Touching the lives of hundreds of school children through arts education and afterschool enrichment programs such as:
 - Holy Infancy Catholic School Art Education Program
 - B-Smart Afterschool Enrichment Program with Bethlehem Area School District
 - “Faces of the SouthSide” Documentary Photography Program
 - Art Smart at Donegan Elementary School
- Partnering with Olympus America on the InVision Photo Festival, which brings together some of the nation’s top photographers for dynamic workshops and presentations.
- 26 art exhibits featuring local and national artists, at the Banana Factory and at SteelStacks.
- Expanding the ArtPop Billboard Competition, a partnership with Adams Outdoor Advertising, to include artists from Berks, Bucks and Montgomery counties.
- Hosting 10 FREE Toddler Storytime Sessions, designed to promote visual literacy and early childhood development.

Morning Call Amateur Scholastic Digital Photography Contest

More than 180 students from 47 schools entered this contest as part of the Olympus InVision Photo Festival. In addition to being featured in The Morning Call, winning works were displayed at InVision.

INNOVATION ROCKS!

When Dirty Dozen Brass Band (DDBB) performed at RiverJazz presented by Concannon Miller, the towering blast furnaces weren't the only thing that blew away the band.

As the winner of SteelStacks' High School Jazz Band Showcase presented by King, Spry, Herman, Freund & Faul, LLC, the North Penn High School Navy Jazz Band had earned the opportunity to open for the New Orleans based group. During the school's sound check, DDBB trumpeter Gregory Davis heard the students' playing and thought they should be on an even larger stage – that of the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival.

"I knew the opening band was going to be a 'school band,' and as I listened to them run through a few songs, I figured they were a college band...I had no idea how young they were," says Davis, who also books acts for Jazz Fest.

After hearing the students perform that night, Davis offered them a spot at the festival, where on April 28, 2016 the school performed alongside acts like Elvis Costello & the Imposters and Flo Rida.

"I have been booking contemporary jazz at Jazz Fest since September 1998," Davis says. "This was the first time that I invited a high school that isn't from the New Orleans area to perform at the festival."

BUILDING THE COMMUNITY THROUGH MUSIC

At the base of the former Bethlehem Steel blast furnaces stands one of the most unique performance venues in the nation, an outdoor amphitheater that reflects both the site's rich history and its vibrant future, with the added benefit of offering amazing music that's affordable to all!

Since 2011, the Levitt Pavilion SteelStacks has presented more than 300 FREE concerts for our community, showcasing the best in blues, rock, indie, folk, Latin and world sounds. Last year artists ranging from the GRAMMY-winning Blind Boys of Alabama and rising indie rockers Jukebox the Ghost, to vocal powerhouse Nikki Hill and the Box Tops, featuring Allentown native Rick Levy, entertained enthusiastic crowds.

In addition to presenting great live music, the Levitt Pavilion focused on expanding its community engagement efforts, offering new programming like:

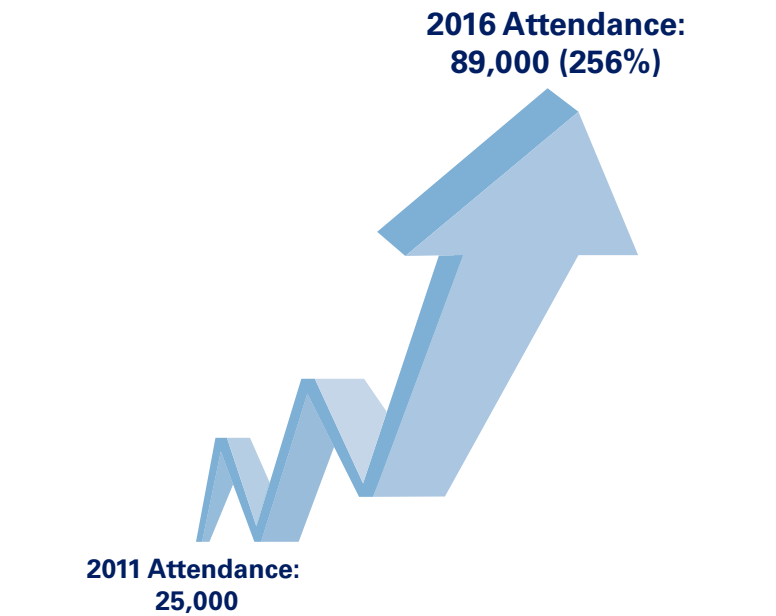

- Two Artist in Residence Programs featuring:
 - Crystal Bowersox at Donegan Elementary School
 - High & Mighty Brass Band at Broughal Middle School
- Strut Your Mutt - A new fundraiser showcasing cute canines and their proud owners
- 11 Free Family Movie Nights, including one presented in partnership with Community Action Development Committee of the Lehigh Valley

Led by the volunteer Friends of the Levitt Pavilion Board, the Levitt Pavilion has dedicated the past six years to bringing the community together through free, high-quality music at this special venue. And, the community has truly responded, with a record 89,000 people attending concerts in 2016, along with a marked increase in donations made from the Levitt lawn during nightly ‘pass the bucket’ campaigns.

The Levitt Pavilion has been called ‘invaluable’ by some and a ‘community treasure’ by others. One thing’s for certain - it’s through the support of everyone in the region that the venue’s popularity continues to grow, making dynamic music experiences possible for all!

LEADING THE WAY IN TOURISM AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

When it opened in 2011, SteelStacks was envisioned as a community gathering place, a destination that would draw people from near and far to the Lehigh Valley for unique arts and culture experiences while aiding in tourism and economic development throughout the region. A nearly $100 million investment in the community by the City of Bethlehem Redevelopment Authority, ArtsQuest and their partners, the site took more than two years to complete, with the first building – the ArtsQuest Center – opening on April 15, 2011.

Fast-forward five years, and the arts and cultural campus is now a major tourist attraction in the city and the region, drawing more than 800,000 people annually to SouthSide Bethlehem. ArtsQuest programs the site robustly with a diverse mix of festivals, free concerts, family programs, visual art experiences and cultural events, with Musikfest playing a leading role.

In 2016, Musikfest continued to serve as a major tourism draw for the region, attracted 957,000 people to the city during its 10-day run. Highlights included headlining concerts by Lady Antebellum, The Avett Brothers, X Ambassadors and more, as well 60 food vendors, 45 artisans and arts spectacles like the amazing Living Vines and “Saurus,” the towering, roaming ‘dinosaurs’ presented by The Netherlands-based Close Act Theatre. Complementing Musikfest were 11 other festivals throughout the year ranging from Blast Furnace Blues presented by Highmark Blue Shield and RiverJazz presented by Concannon Miller, to the Olympus InVision Photo Festival and PEEPSFEST presented by Just Born.

During the year, ArtsQuest and the SteelStacks campus hosted or presented 2,077 films, 968 concerts and 200 comedy shows, making it the most robust programming year in the site’s history. Overall, our nonprofit presented more than 3,000 different programs and events throughout the year, with more than 40 percent of these free for the community.

“There was a time when you couldn’t talk about Bethlehem without mention of Bethlehem Steel. Once the nation’s second-largest steel producer, it shuttered its hometown mill in 1995, marking the end of an industrial era.

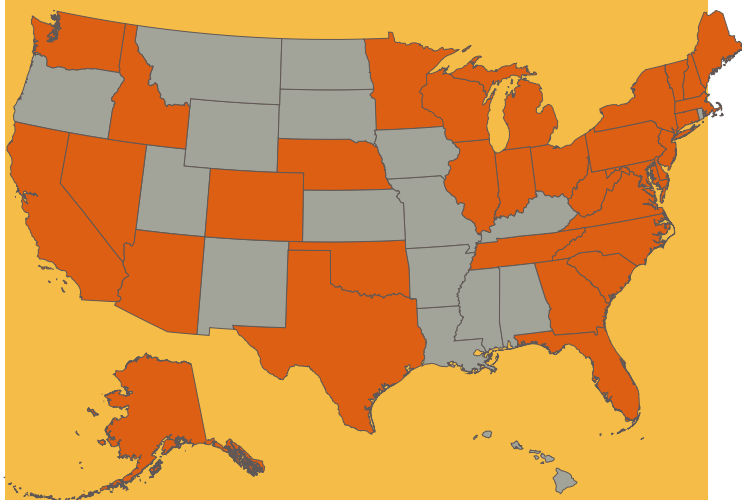

More than 20 years later the city has managed to reinvent itself while holding on to its history. The 10-acre mill site, now called SteelStacks, is an arts venue for concerts, film screenings and festivals, including Musikfest, a 10-day event that is one of the country’s largest free music happenings.”

Creating Jobs in the Arts!

ArtsQuest added SIX new full-time positions and 20 new part-time staff in 2016. We now employ 171 year-round staff.

People from 34 states attended Musikfest in 2016.

“We’ve had a lot of people from outside the Lehigh Valley stop in, especially during Musikfest. The exposure and awareness of our business because of the festival has been great. We’ve really benefited from the foot traffic and people walking around the SouthSide during the event.”

CHRISTKINDLMARKT CELEBRATES RECORD YEAR!

Christkindlmarkt Bethlehem’s 24th year was one for the record books as the holiday market drew 69,439 people to the Christmas City.

The 2016 event featured a record number of artisans, as well as new shopping tents, more holiday decorations and new children’s attractions. The 2016 attendance topped the previous record of 64,612, set in 2015, by 7.5 percent.

“Although I only travel 100 miles or less from my home for arts and crafts events, I have shipped orders to 35 states this year. I know that the national draw of ArtsQuest events such as Christkindlmarkt is the reason why a small, local artisan such as myself can have such a nationwide customer base.”

THE ARTSQUEST FOUNDATION

The ArtsQuest Foundation was founded in 2003 to build sustainability for ArtsQuest's arts, culture, educational and community development programs, more than 40 percent of which are free for the region.

How the Foundation Began

The Foundation was established with a generous gift from Marlene "Linny" Fowler of Bethlehem, an artist and philanthropist who helped found ArtsQuest's Banana Factory Arts Center. Mrs. Fowler's gift provides a permanent source of operating support for the arts center, which, in her spirit, now offers scholarships for its arts classes, camps and workshops to any adult or student who cannot afford the tuition. Linny also served on the ArtsQuest Foundation Board of Trustees from 2003 until her passing in 2013.

What the ArtsQuest Foundation Supports

Ninety-five percent of all funds donated to the ArtsQuest Foundation go to support ArtsQuest, its programs and services.

The Foundation helps support thousands of ArtsQuest programs, including arts education, early childhood development, visual literacy and after-school arts enrichment programs; visiting artist residencies in area schools; and enhanced professional development programs. ArtsQuest also offers initiatives that build community and neighborhood partnerships, as well as provide resources for area educators.

The 2016 Linny Awards

In 2016 the ArtsQuest Foundation presented the inaugural Linny Awards, sponsored by Cornerstone Advisors. Named after Mrs. Fowler, the awards honor Linny's dedication to and support of the arts, while also celebrating the Lehigh Valley's vibrant arts community.

As part of this prestigious awards program, 10 individuals and businesses were selected by the Linny Awards' jurying committee to be honored for their roles in promoting and supporting the arts. In addition, the ArtsQuest Foundation selected three individuals to receive awards recognizing their longtime commitment to the arts: the Lifetime Achievement Artist Award, Lifetime Achievement Volunteer Award and the prestigious Pinnacle of the Arts. All 13 recipients received a hand-blown glass trophy, created by the Glass Studio at the Banana Factory, during a celebration in November at the ArtsQuest Center's Musikfest Café presented by Yuengling.

Leave Your Legacy Today

There are numerous ways to support the ArtsQuest Foundation. Start now with a charitable contribution for immediate support of ArtsQuest, as well as endowment gifts to sustain our programs for generations to come. Plus, pan your legacy by naming our Foundation as a beneficiary in your life insurance policy, IRA or by gifting a specific amount or percentage of your estate in your will or trust plan.

For more information on supporting our nonprofit, please visit:
www.artsquestfoundation.org.

Proceeds raised from the Linny Awards go directly to the ArtsQuest Foundation and helping to support the long-term sustainability of ArtsQuest. The Foundation invites everyone to join in the 2017 Linny Awards celebration on Nov. 9.
